Searching Standards for Federal Courts:

District Courts indexed by defendant, plaintiff, and by case number. Bankruptcy Courts usually index by debtor and case number. Most case files created prior to 1999 were maintained in paper format only. Since 2006, all cases are filed electronically. Paper case files may be stored at the courthouse or forwarded to a designated Federal Records Center (see <http://archives.gov/frc>), the timeframe determined by the Court. These case files may be obtained via the Court or directly from the FRC.

Case data may be viewed PACER, the online public access program. An account is required, the fee is $.10 per page; there is no fee if a usage does not exceed $15.00 in a quarter. For details about PACER see the Appendix or go to <https://www.pacer.gov> or call 800-676-6856.

The copy fee is $.50; $.10 if electronic document is printed from terminal. Certification fee is $11.00 per document and $21.00 for exemplification, if available. If a case is still available from the individual federal court, the search fee is $30.00. If the case is at the Archives, the case can be ordered from the court. The fee to retrieve a paper file is $64.00 for the first box and $39.00 ea add'l box. Also, the public can order copies direct online from the National Archives. Copies can be delivered by mail, fax, or email. See more information at www.archives.gov/research/court-records/55.

Details on the Court Structure

In general, Texas District Courts have general civil jurisdiction and exclusive felony jurisdiction, along with typical variations such as contested probate and divorce. There are 359 Districts fully within one county and 98 Districts contain more than one county. Plus, there can be multiple Districts and multiple District Courts in one courthouse. But the record keeping is organized by county and there is only one searchable database per courthouse. Therefore the profiles of the District Courts are herein organized by county.

The County Court structure consists of two forms of courts - Constitutional and Statutory (commonly called At Law). The Constitutional upper civil claim limit is $10,000 while the At Law upper limit is $200,000 and some jurisdictions are higher. County Courts have original jurisdiction for misdemeanors with fines greater than $500 or jail sentences. Within the county the District Court or County Court can handle evictions. In approx. 69 counties, one individual serves as both the District Clerk and County Clerk.

The two local courts are the Justice Courts and Municipal Courts. These courts handle misdemeanors punishable by fine only where the fine is less than $500 and no jail sentences. Justice Courts also handle small claims and civil actions of not more than $10,000 and eviction cases. Municipal courts handle limited civil matters and municipal ordinance cases.

Probate is handled in Probate Court in the ten largest counties and in the County Court elsewhere. The County Clerk is responsible for these records in every county.

A PDF file of the addresses and phone numbers of all the Municipal Courts is found at www.txcourts.gov/media/12822/municipal-courts-2014.pdf. This list is in "City Order" and does not present the county where located.

Texas County Locator

You will usually be able to find the city name in the City/County Cross Reference below. In that case, it is a simple matter to determine the county from the cross reference. However, only the official US Postal Service city names are included in this index. We have also included a ZIP/City Cross Reference immediately following the City/County Cross Reference. If you know the ZIP Code but the city name does not appear in the City/County Cross Reference index, look up the ZIP Code in the ZIP/City Cross Reference, find the city name, then look up the city name in the City/County Cross Reference.
